ANGLERS

A detailed black and white illustration of a fish, likely a trout or salmon, is shown in mid-leap. The fish is positioned as if it is jumping out of the letter 'N' in the word 'ANGLERS'. The fish's body is curved upwards, with its tail and lower body partially overlapping the 'N'. The fish has a pattern of small dots along its back and a larger, darker patch on its side. Its fins are spread out, and its mouth is open, showing a small hook or lure.
